Christmas at the dive store: new gift cards!
Save the Date: Dec 1

Vance is a really great guy, a super dive buddy, and an excellent divemaster!

Happy Birthday
Vance!

Vance is obviously a 'real man' --- he takes his daughter diving!!

Plus... he goes shooting with her... underwater!

All your dive buddies hope your birthday was a blast!

Seasons change: Now that we have put away the golf clubs and hung up the dive fins it is time to get excited about Christmas.

Connie loves Christmas! This year is the best ever, as I talked Heidi into coming and decorating the dive shop. It is so festive and cheery inside! You will not believe it until you see it.

Welcome Heidi: Heidi is coming on board part time as our 'Digital Marketing Specialist'. She is teaching us about Instagram! Look forward to seeing dive store posts on Facebook and Instagram from her.

Plus, Heidi helps out at the dive store when our schedules allow!

Gift Cards: We are very excited about our new Platinum gift cards! These are available at the dive store to purchase individually, or we have them bundled with assorted dive related gift ideas.

Dan and I each have an area to highlight in the store:

- Dan's Deals: This is a random selection of items of interest to divers. It may be new items we have in the store that we want to feature and brag about; or it may be items we are clearing out. The bin is empty today...I'll grab a picture later in the week to see what shows up in it.
- Connie's Christmas Corner: We wanted a place to feature dive related Christmas gift ideas and pretty things.

Jill Heinerth presentation: save the date - Tues., Dec 1, at 7 pm. The Ft. McMurray scuba club invited Jill to a Zoom meeting to share her experiences during dive expeditions. Jill is an inspirational Canadian explorer, and has adventures which include encounters with polar bears, narwhales, flow edge, icebergs... Jill is one of my heros!

We will have a link to the Zoom meeting at the dive store.

We invite you to join us at the dive shop for the casual presentation and Q&A. Send us a message if you can make it – we'll get some hot chocolate out, and perhaps empty a different cupboard! If you can't make it to the shop, you can request a zoom meeting from the Ft. McMurray club and watch it at your own home as well.

Equipment servicing news flash: All divers either own or rent regulators for diving. It is one of those essential pieces of life support equipment. For the past couple of weeks Dan has been servicing used regulators that came into the store. I thought all divers would be interested in the findings. In a word, Dan described the condition of the regulators as 'horrible'. This caught my attention . . . and delving into this is forming the next newsletter . . . stay tuned!

Dive store winter hours:

Tues to Fri from 8:30 to 5:30 pm, closed for an hour at lunch. Mon, evenings and weekends are by appointment: we'll work out a mutually acceptable time if you can't make it Tues. to Fri.

See you in the store!
